Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 62 and 66 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Applicant argues that the Examiner has failed to set forth why persons skilled in the art would not recognize in the disclosure a description of the invention defined by the claims. Initially it is pointed out that MPEP 2163(II)(A) states that the initial burden of presenting evidence is the examiner's only after applicant points out where and/or how the originally filed disclosure supports the amendments to the claims, and in the instant case applicant has not done so. In any event, the fact that the term "somewhat perpendicular to the first hinge" does not appear in the original disclosure is evidence why a person skilled in the art would not recognize that the written description of the invention provides support for the claims. Concerning the reliance of Figs. 2-4 to show support, it is not understood how these Figs. along with the disclosure at page 6, lines 13-15 support the language "somewhat perpendicular" not present in the claims. For example, the sheet could be tensioned in a direction which is substantially not perpendicular to the hinge and still round the corners of the pad 104.

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
